Please provide a description of the practicum site and student activities:

The Napanee Community Health Centre works with a rural community. We service community members and have a number of services for Indigenous clients. We have primary health care providers, dietician, nurses, community and practical support workers, and partner with other community agencies. We provide a number of groups and workshops as well as a harm reduction program.

Students will have the option to have their own caseload, program plan their own workshop, group facilitate, partner with other agencies, and learn more about modalities. The placement works with students to help them build their confidence in counselling and social work.
